

Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research
University of Chadli BENDJEDID, El -Tarf
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences
Department of Psychology

Date: 27/04/2025

Level: 2nd year LMD Psychology (All groups)

Module: English Language

Instructor: Ms. Saci Meriem

Second Semester Online English Exam

Part One: Answer with True or False (5pts)

- a. Self-awareness refers to the capacity to accurately recognize and comprehend one's own emotions, behaviours, and thoughts, as well as their impact on others. _____
- b. Psychologists must not consider the cultural background of the individual when interpreting assessment results, as cultural factors can influence behavior and test performance. _____
- c. Neuropsychology is founded on the principle that distinct regions of the brain are specialized for specific cognitive and behavioural functions. _____
- d. Cognitive psychology emphasizes the external factors that shape behavior, such as stimuli, reinforcements, and punishments _____
- e. Behavioural psychology contributes to understanding consumer behaviour, decision-making processes, and how individuals are influenced by rewards and penalties in economic contexts. _____

Part Two: In your own words and in no more than three lines answer the following questions (8pts)

A. What is the difference between Bottom-Up and Top-Down Processing in Perception Theories? (2pts)

.....

.....

.....

B. How to improve Self-Awareness?(2pts)

.....

.....

.....

C. Who is Ivan Pavlov? (2pts)

.....

.....

.....

D. Explain the Relationship between Brain and Behavior (2pts)

.....

.....

.....

Part Three: (6pts)

Cognitive Development refers to how mental abilities evolve over the lifespan, from childhood to adulthood. One prominent figure in this field is Jean Piaget, who proposed a theory of cognitive development with four main stages. Discuss

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

✓ You have (+1) for the clearness and cleanness of the paper

Best Wishes of Luck